Health and Physical Education Program

Dr. Jay Garrels, Director
These majors are offered through the School of Education.
The Health and Physical Education Program offers a major in Fitness and Wellness, Exercise Science and Teaching to prepare students for employment in a number of venues including commercial fitness, corporate health and fitness, and community recreation and health promotion. Students desiring a teaching certificate in Health and Physical Education will include a series of courses offered through the School of Education in order to teach in the K-12 school environment. These courses would be part of the Minor in Secondary Education.
